PROLOGUE

"All the world's a stage, and the men and women merely players. Each one in his time plays many parts."

We, as students, are in the second of Shakespeare's seven acts through which each must pass in her lifetime. For the seniors, the events recorded within these pages mark the termination of four years of GOLDEN DAYS spent within the granite walls of St. Joseph's Academy. This book, then, is for them the final link that forms the chain of high school years.

For the other classes, juniors, sophomores, freshmen, these pages hold memories of a year's work and play at their alma mater.

May this drama of school days in 1949-50, be more thrilling each time it is seen by you, its players.

DEDICATION

Ever mindful of the love and loyalty that every graduate has for her alma mater,

We, the senior class of 1950, dedicate this annual,

First, to the alumnae of St. Joseph's Academy, who fifty years ago met at the old academy on 6400 Minnesota avenue to organize an association that has functioned regularly since 1901;

Secondly, to the Sisters of St. Joseph, who are this year celebrating the three-hundreth anniversary of their founding as a religious community in Le Puy, France.

Working With Mary

"Ad Jesus per Mariam" is the motto and aim of the Sodality of Our Lady of the Annunciation. Through this motto, SJA sodalists strive to promote love and devotion to Mary.

Helping the members achieve this goal are the officers: Judy Wulfmeyer, Mary Claire Murphy, Pat Moore and Rita Riley with Sister Angela Marie as moderator. Assistance in forming the year's program comes from the spiritual council.

Self-sanctification is the highest goal of each sodalist. Each month she takes an active interest in such projects as clothes drive, discussion club, Holy Year crusade of prayer, retreat, vocation week, Our Lady's office, and May day.

The social side of sodality life is not overlooked. One of the highlights of this past Christmas was the sodality formal in Medaille Hall, the proceeds of which were used to buy a new cape for the May Queen.

FIRST ROW: J. Lux, M. C. Murphy, K. Hogan. SECOND ROW: P. Moore, M. Ahearn, J. Wulfmeyer, M. Olivastro, A. Johnston, A. Colfer. THIRD ROW: M. P. Brennan, J. Baker, R. Riley, M. Gratiaa, N. O'Leary, J. Olivastro, S. Vallar.

*May Queen and
Prefect of the Sodality*

Judy Wulfmeyer

Where we go to Him with our cares and burdens, and come away refreshed.

Minutes With God

Silence and the faint odor of flowers and incense! These will always remind you of St. Joseph's Chapel on second floor of Ryan Hall.

It was here you made those frequent and fervent visits after lunch each noon, before exams, during retreat, and before that most important basketball game.

Here you implored help during the year at the Mass of the Holy Ghost. In His presence the freshmen were received into Mary's sodality, and May Day ended on a solemn note.

As each Sajoette knelt before Him, the true meaning of Christ's love for man became so clear, and she vowed that sanctity would be hers and she would be faithful to Christ always.

Crusading For Christ

The Catholic Students' Mission Crusade is dear to the hearts of all mission-minded Sajoettes. "The whole world for the Sacred Heart, the Sacred Heart for all the World," is the motto of this unit of crusaders.

Prayer and sacrifice are the key words for this group. Every week in the home rooms mission class representatives urge their fellow students to a better understanding of the great work of the missions at home and in foreign countries. The interest and enthusiasm of each student is evidenced by the generous financial and spiritual offerings that pour into the treasury each week.

Jacquie Smith, Jane Lux, Mary Margaret Marsh, Pat Heneghan, under the supervision of Sister Agnes Cecile, work with the mission council to sponsor talks by missionary priests and Sisters, collect stamps, fill baskets, and offer prayers that all may be won to Christ.

Searching Science

As science marches forward, so does the SJA Nieuwland Science Club. Not to be outdone in delving into nature's secrets, the club undertook two projects this year.

The first project was the planting and cultivating of tulips; the second, in the line of photography, was picture taking and development.

Cataloging Books

The library is a rendezvous for those seeking intellectual pursuits. It offers an abundance of informative reading and a store of entertaining books that reflect modern literature in both prose and poetry.

With a courtesy and pleasantry characteristic of good librarians, Pattie Goodwin and Theone Klenke assist the students in selecting books and magazines.

Writing Truth

The Academy speaks for itself. Shirley Martin and Marybel Steele, as editors, and Ann Colfer as business manager, have captured the all-pervading spirit of SJA and encased it within these pages.

The Press Club is the threshold aspiring writers must cross into the realm of newspaper and yearbook work. Marilyn Metcalf as president kindled the flame of interest and enthusiasm this past year.

The Sajoac, four-page newspaper, is issued monthly. Its purpose is to present to the students the affairs and news of the school.

The staff, numbering thirty-five, is headed by Marian O'Meara and Mary Agnes Slaughter under the supervision of Sister Jean Fontbonne.

The Catholic School Press Association has, for two consecutive years, awarded the Sajoac its highest possible honor, "All-Catholic." Sajoac is also a member of Quill and Scroll.

Singing For Joy

No matter at what hour of the day or evening the Glee Club sings it always has an enthusiastic audience. Proving beyond a shadow of a doubt that they do love music and singing, the members practiced twice a week before school hours. Early songbirds hitting the high notes they could be called.

Sister Mary Antone trained the group the first semester and was succeeded in the second semester by Sister Mary Arthur, who came to us from Rosati-Kain high school.

The club rose to new heights when they took to the air waves on Feb. 12. The occasion was the high school review program over station

Making Melody

KWK in which St. Joseph's Academy was featured. The Glee Club contributed the "Alleluia" chorus, with Jo Ann Gratiaa as soloist; "Andante Cantabile," accompanied by Mary Audrey Giovanni as violinist and Mary Toenges organist; and "The Old Woman and the Peddler."

A second project was the participation in the Fontbonne College music festival, March 24-27. As usual, the club attracted many favorable comments from the audience.

A few high notes must be sounded in praise of the members of the club who participated in the Christmas operetta, "The Slip of a Slipper." Florence Spack did a magnificent piece of work as Cinderella; so did Dolores Lowther, Pat Gallagher, Rosemary Fischer, Sari Rossow and all the chorus. Their voices truly had powers to charm.

Playing The Part

"The Slip of a Slipper" was the operetta offered at Christmas. The evenings of Dec. 15 and 16 one could see mice, cooks, gardeners, dancers, all rushing to the auditorium to make the play a success.

Enjoying The Dance

Amid a setting of poinsettias and evergreen boughs, the sodalists sponsored their first Christmas formal in Medaille Hall, Dec. 29. Jimmy Downey and his orchestra played as the couples sang and swayed.

Sipping raspberry punch and munching home made cookies, Sajoettes and their dates said they liked a formal dance at Christmas and declared that it should become one of the many SJA traditions.

Boosting The School

Jean Ramacciotti represented SJA at La Promenade Militaire sponsored by CBC Jan. 30. The second highest honorary title was conferred on her by the cadet officers, that of honorary lieutenant colonel, executive.

The Sub-Deb Club selects loyal SJA sophomores, juniors or seniors to its limited membership of twelve. Membership ceases with graduation.

This club gives the impetus toward making campus activities successful.

Mermaids

The Swimming Club was headed by Ginny O'Hare. Miss Celeste Kerber directed the two projects for the year, the interclass meet and the water carnival in the spring.

The theme of the water carnival was taken from the musical stage play, "South Pacific." The various ballets were devised by the members of the club. Three performances were given, one for the eighth grade students of the city. Proceeds went to the club.

Modern Dancers

The Modern Dance Club, the latest in the athletic organizations, won the enthusiasm and interest of seventy Sajoettes. Toni Sassin headed the group under the excellent training of Miss Kerber, herself a dancer of some renown.

Every week for one hour these dancers met to go through the various routines pointed out for them. The results showed up in the graceful dances performed in the Christmas play.

Rackets and Balls

Future stars from all classes make up the SJA Tennis Club. Meeting once a week in fall and spring, the players take lessons from Mary Vassely, St. Louis junior district tennis champion.

To remain in the club the minimum practice was one day a week, with as much additional practice as each player desired. Fifty-eight players comprised the club membership for the past year. The tournament was the climax.

Free Throws and Baskets

The basketball team could never have done so well were it not for the cheerleaders and the Pep Club. Captained by Mary Vassely, two-year cheerleader, the six drew enthusiastic cheers from a loyal student body at every game.

Pep Club leader Patti Goodwin saw to it that the members were provided with copies of the new cheers, and that they had cokes between quarters to soothe their aching throats.

As usual basketball, the most popular indoor sport at SJA, drew the attention of all from early February until March 26, the end of the Maryville tournament.

The squad of twenty, consisting of ten veterans, nine of them seniors, mastered a very tough schedule, coached by Miss Joy Prost and captained by Kathy Carney.

FIRST ROW: M. Steele, J. Houlihan, M. A. O'Reilly, S. Martin, J. Gratia, D. Maher. SECOND ROW: D. Meiners, S. Vallar, K. Carney (captain), P. Moore, A. Colfer. THIRD ROW: Miss J. Prost, N. O'Leary, M. Gratia, J. Moore, M. Kennedy, M. Hackett, P. Brennan, J. Roth, B. Byrne, Miss C. Kerber.

Pins and Points

Pins fell and points mounted each Thursday as the Academy bowlers invaded Esquire Bowling Alleys to improve their game. Ten teams of five members each challenged one another in weekly contests.

Those who were new to the game were instructed by a pro, an employee of the alleys, who demonstrated the proper methods of playing this popular game. For each game ten points were given toward an athletic letter.

Cantering Along

The Riding Club was headed by Joan Kutterer. Carolyn Linstroth captained the advanced group; Carla Maglietta the novice group; Sharon McNamee and Martha Kennedy the beginners.

On Thursday afternoons and Saturday mornings some sixty members practiced in preparation for the annual horse show at Missouri Stables April 12 to 14. Prior to the horse show, Academy riders participated in an interschool meet in early January.

D. Maher, S. Vallar, J. Baker, K. Carney.

Physical Training

Miss Celeste Kerber, with a background rich in experience in physical education, stimulated interest in modern dance, swimming, tennis, and speech that spread throughout the school.

The charm, grace, and personality she possesses herself were transmitted to the students under her care. It has been a privilege to work with you, Miss Kerber.

Dinner With Dad

Sajoettes to the number of 130 were escorted by their Dads to the annual Father-Daughter banquet at Hotel Chase, Feb. 21.

For several years now this affair has been sponsored by the Athletic Association. Sue Vallar, association president, was general chairman, assisted by the other officers.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Robert Brennan, C.M., of the Prep Seminary.

Epilogue

Before we become but a memory in the eyes of the faculty and students of our dear old alma mater, we would like to place before you our characteristic code that has carried us through four years of St. Joseph's Academy.

1. Never let it be said that we lacked a sense of humor.

2. Never let it be said that we stopped trying to make changes.

3. Never let it be said that we are the most quiet class in the school.

4. Never let it be said that we forgot our goal, June 1, 1950. Leaving our wit behind us, we now present our last will and testament.

I, JOAN ROGERS, will to any musical minded junior my marked interpretation of "Oh, Butter-milk Sky." It's an original, believe me!

I, TONI SASSIN, will to Kathy Huffman a bottle of J and E's Pep remedy. It is known to be harmless but effective.

I, BETTY VOGT, will to Joan Jolley my height. It is not always "dare to be different," it's fun.

I, PAT McNEARNEY, will to Shirley Linders my Toni home permanent. I didn't know how to work it, but you probably will.

I, AUDREY GILDER, will to all ten o'clock scholars my good fortune in missing streetcars. For good measure, I'll throw in my frequent office trips.

I, THEONE KLENKE, will to Kathleen Hogan my lovely chair in the library. Also my answer book to all questions that will be asked.

I, JUDY WULFMEYER, will to Rita Riley my clever position in all classes. It's a long-practiced art of curling up in a nice, hard student chair.

I, MARY VASELY, will to Susie O'Leary the privilege of dancing in all school productions. It's wonderful provided you don't have to teach someone with two left feet.

I, JACQUE SMITH, will to Marianne Klein my super-talent for cheerleading.

I, MARY CLAIRE MURPHY, will to Shirley Hummel my everlasting frankness. It comes in very handy.

I, HELEN SPECKART, will to all those Latin students my treasured Latin book. May you love and cherish it as I did.

I, MARY AUDREY GIOVANNI, will to all music lovers my treasured violin to use in a one-man orchestra.

I, MARLENE BOLHOFNER, will to Helen Barry an afternoon of listening to "Gil" on KWK.

I, SUE COLLINS, will to Joan Lyons my quiet and reserved manner that is bound to attract attention.

I, PADDY GOODWIN, will to Mary Joan Kriegshauser my uniform which conforms strictly to the new look.

I, BETTY WELEK, will to whom it may concern my fond love of Hoppe's. May you all enjoy it as much as I have.

I, JEAN RAMACCIOTTI, will to Vera Rhomberg my great affinity and attraction for personal property situated in Affton.

I, ANN BARTHELME, will to Nancy Johnston my round trip tickets to Effingham as I have given them up long ago for other interests.

I, MARY ANN DALY, will to Pat Fawcett my everlasting reducing pills. More will power to you, Pat.

I, DOLORES LOWTHER, will to Virginia Blatterner my famous bottle of H₂ O₂, hoping you'll use wisely.

I, NANCY ROBERT, will to Alice Tucker my parking place in the horse show with room for expansion.

I, MARIAN HARRIS, will to Mary Ann Edwards my ability to judge people at first sight.

I, AUDREA HALEY, will to Marilyn Metcalf my poetic talent. Put it to good use, Marilyn.

I, MARIAN O'MEARA, will to Rose Gioia my little bottle of growing pills. Have fun, Rosie.

I, MARY PATRICIA BRENNAN, will to Pat Heneghan my love of the Emerald Isle.

I, PAT HOERR, will to Mary Ann Hanlon my reserved conduct in class to cherish until graduation day.

Epilogue

I, JEANNE BENCE, will to Carla Maglietta my outstanding eyes that will own any Irishman.

I, JEANNE ROTH, will to Joan Houlihan my soft and quiet voice. It may take a while, Joan.

I, JOAN KUTTERER, will to Jackie Boas my devoted love for all my friends at Missouri Stables—horses, that is.

I, BETTY BAWN, with my colleague, BETTY GEORGE, will to Betty Jones and Ruth Patterson our undying pep and vigor.

I, SHIRLEY MARTIN, will to Marce Gratiaa my carefree attitude in class.

I, JONNIE McNAMEE, will to Nancy Brown my famous mug for all spirited parties.

I, ROSEMARY FISCHER, will to Aube Espenschied my relations and love for morticians.

I, KATHY CARNEY, will to Mary Hackett my book of instructions on how to get jump balls. Hope you'll have better luck than I did.

I, MARY KATHERINE MARTIN, will to Dottie Maher my great talent for getting myself into strange predicaments. It's amusing but awfully confusing.

I, ANN COLFER, will to Pat Moore my last penny to use on a certain gadget at Woolworths. Hope it has better news for you than it had for me.

I, JANE LUX, will to Margaret Kluck all those handsome men that roam about St. Luke's. Literally speaking, that is.

I, ANITA PELLIGRINI, will to Mary Margaret Marsh "bits" of good luck with my Chem pony. Mahr fun!

I, PAT GALLAGHER, will to Sari Rossow my experience in the dramatic field. Experience, that is.

I, DOLORES BERRA, along with my friend and colleague, JACKIE DALTON, will to Mary Ann Hilgeman all the luck in the world in regard to swimming. In the west end of the pool, to put it mildly.

I, VIRGINIA BREHER, will to Joan Hogan my quiet and unassuming manner along with my sudden bursts of enthusiasm.

I, PEGGY PEELER, will to Joan Barry about four extra inches of my height although it will break my heart to part with them.

I, JO ANN GRATIAA, will to Florence Spack my vocal ability. Combine it with sports and a knack for making people laugh and you'll get along.

I, ANN KOHL, will to all nightingales my love for those early morning glee club sessions. Don't you agree, there's nothing like a sunrise exercise of the lungs?

I, MARIE RUSSO, and I, GINNY RUSSO, will to all others who possess a name that is forever coming up with a mate, our personalities which are as different as night and day.

I, GINNY O'HARE, will to the future senior class my finally acquired will power which will prevent them from chopping off their hair in moments of anger.

I, MARY AGNES SLAUGHTER, will to Mary Virginia Downey my favorite first cousin. All I can say is, first come, first served.

I, MARILYN PORTER, will to Eileen Ulrich my hilarious sense of humor, although it's rather embarrassing at times.

I, MARY TENGE, and I, MARY ALICE McKAY, will to Joan McLaughlin and Marianne Hayes our love for studying. It may be rather confining but it is worth it. Or is it?

I, BETTY BYRNE, will to Doris Nesslein my treasured little runabout with an illustrated book of instructions.

I, MARY KAMP, will to Mary Catherine Chapman my art ability and all the necessary equipment that goes with it.

I, ARLENE, and I, IRLENE KUHLMANN, will to all uninterrupted drivers our station wagon. There is room for everyone.

I, PAT BARNES, and I, MARYBEL STEELE, will to Pat Bowman our rare sense of wit to be used in any awkward situation.

I, SUSIE SWITZER, will to Margie Kelly my beautiful blond tresses. Keep them shining bright, Margie.

I, SUE VALLAR, will to Nancy O'Leary my uncanny luck in everything. Get it?

A Look Into the Future

Our scene opens in the old familiar business area of DeBaliviere and Delmar. We are just inside the old car barn which is about to be torn down.

Yes, it seems a pity to see an old landmark disappear. But times change and the old must make room for the new. For at the present time St. Louis is one of the most modern of cities. With her super-atom busses no one finds much time or use for street cars.

Imagine anyone riding those things twenty years ago. Why people waited as long as ten minutes for a street car. It took at least forty-five minutes to ride downtown. Why, in our super-atom busses we moan if it takes more than three and a half minutes to get anywhere.

But, hush! I believe there are voices coming from the car barn. Why it's the Dinkey '04, the old Hodiamont and a few other cronies talking over old times. Let's listen! Dinkey is talking.

"Well, I don't believe that there was a happier street car than '04. If I did seem something of a dreamer I guess it's just that I was waiting to see if all I predicted of some of my everyday passengers would come true.

"It seems like yesterday when I was jiggling up and over those rolling hills out past Clayton and through Ladue. Those were cold mornings when the kids were piled in four layers of clothes.

"I guess I was one of the most fashionable cars this side of city limits. In the summer I was air-conditioned. I never had to worry about ventilation with the open air ceiling. And did I strut when my nose was on one side of the tracks, my rear on the other, and those sitting in the middle had an open air view of the country.

"On winter days I looked like some king-sized dragon with my coal smoke rolling out of my spout. With the great clang of my bell I used to set the hills trembling for miles around.

"Now about those youngsters I used to transport to and from. The class that interested me especially was the 1950 class of St. Joseph's Academy. They were just juniors when I retired and that day I predicted their future and they predicted mine. What I said they could be doing twenty years hence is just what each one is doing.

"Theone Klenke has just published her latest book, 'The Marbles.' However, it is not too clear at the end.

"If you want to visit Patti Goodwin you will have to travel to the North Pole, for she is Mrs. Santa Claus. Her youngest is a little dear named Rudolph.

"Peggy Peeler can be heard on every juke box with her record, 'The Sheik of Araby.' On the flip-over is 'The Birds Were Chittering.'

"The newly-elected president of the National Pajama Party Association is Patricia Brennan.

"If you yearn for a date, call the Acme Escort Agency and ask for the general manager, Marian Harris.

"Dolores Lowther and her unsurpassed mid-air triple somersault has made roller skating history.

"Virginia Russo, owner of a beauty parlor, is well known for her treatment which induces longer golden locks.

"Mary Claire Murphy hasn't built a better mouse trap but she has constructed a non-breakable typewriter.

"The new MAD lipstick that has surpassed Revelon is the creation of Mary Ann Daly.

"Ginny O'Hare is giving instructions on how to swim the Irish Channel in ten easy strokes.

"Marie Russo and Dolores Berra have opened a restaurant which has replaced Salla's and Ruggeri's.

"That lithe teacher of physical education, Marlene McNamee, is now head instructor at St. Joseph's Academy.

"Mary Kamp is still putting nickles in the juke box for her favorite record, 'I Came a Long Way to St. Louis.'

"Audrey Gilder has made a small fortune from her latest invention, the never-be-late watch.

"Sue Vallar is manufacturing Raggedy Ann dolls, using herself as a model.

"Everyone knows the hysterically humorous jokes in the history paper, 'Our Times.' The author is, of course, Pat McNearney.

"Mary Agnes Slaughter has patented her 'brain child.' It's a Latin book with a built-in pony.

"Pat Hoerr, as mayor of Normandy, can be heard every week delivering in a booming voice her orations.

"Jacque Smith is still collecting on her book, 'One Hundred Jokes and How to Understand Them.' I wonder.

A Look Into the Future

"Ginny Breher, when she is not writing books on how to plant tulips, is supervising the tulip displays at the Jewel Box.

"Jeanne Roth and Helen Speckart operate a transportation service to Annapolis for graduation ceremonies.

"Marybel Steele, America's ace mountain climber is now at the peak of her success at Hi Pointe.

"Judy Wulfmeyer's tap dancing has greatly improved since she left SJA. She is now starring on Broadway with Ray Bolger, Jr., in the new hit, 'Wha' Hoppen to Charlie?'

"The new medicine that has replaced Hadacol is Dr. Sue Collins' remedy for people who have that 'It nauseates me' feeling.

"On your vacation next summer plan to attend Audrea Haley's Haven for Healthy Horses, the new dude ranch whose fame is sweeping the country. Even the horses wear tails.

"Be sure to see Patsy Barnes the next time the circus is in town. She stars in the side show as the first woman flame-eater.

"The class is very proud of Mary Vassely, who has turned professional and defeated Gussie Moran for the twenty-third consecutive time.

"Betty Bawn and Betty George, who were expert reporters for the school paper, are now employed by the Chicago Tribune.

"The girls hear from Pat Gallagher occasionally. Pat lives in Fulton, Missouri, with her doctor husband.

"Ann Colfer and Kathy Carney, the first girls to play on the Billiken quintet, were a good reason for St. Louis winning the NIT tournament in New York. The score was 101 to 10.

"Mary Tenge, who finally revealed her hidden talent, has just published a song called 'Hit the Highway to Atcheson.'

"Rosemary Fischer has been traveling around the world with her soldier husband.

"Jean Ramacciotti and Bette Lou Vogt have just finished their first book, 'How to Win Friends Away at College and Influence People.'

"Bette Welek and Mary Catherine Martin can be seen every day on their way to Sunset in their bus containing all their little ones.

"The students are now taking riding lessons from Joan Kutterer, new owner of Missouri Stables.

"Marlene Bolhofner still transports students to the Academy. She has installed a transportation service called Lizzie for Lazy Lasses.

"Jane Lux has just opened her new dress shop. She has cornered the market on housecoats.

"Just yesterday some of the girls received a postcard from Irlene Kuhlman, who is the foreman of the D. E. ranch in Denver.

"Toni Sassin is sending her girls to SJA by helicopter from the 'Developments,' a new housing project begun by her husband.

"Nancy Rorert finally received a pass on the Northwestern Special. She still disappears mysteriously on Thursday evenings and returns as mysteriously on Monday mornings.

"Mary Alice McKay is still using her wit to give Uncle Milt some originality. As his gag writer she does very well.

"Susie Switzer is giving Elsa Maxwell plenty of competition with her parties. She is the hostess of the town.

"Well, I'm getting tired of talking. Must be old age. I can't say that I won't be sorry when I can rest in pieces.

"Wonder what the next fifty years will bring?"
